

A unique exhibition of art from Victims of Trauma

Corina Hazlett and Sarah Scott Webb (Hagar NZ) have just returned from working with staff and clients of Hagar Vietnam. Visit this unique exhibition of artworks which uses the practice of making art as a tool to communicate, allowing the safety of anonymity for trauma victims to share their stories.

Original artworks (which Corina and Sarah will be discussing) and copies of prints will be for sale. There is also an opportunity for you to respond as the exhibition will be interactive. This is an important part in the healing process, for the clients to feel they have a voice. The clients are so excited about this exhibition and we will be documenting it's every step. Please join us..

Where: Culverden Art Gallery, Culverden

When: Monday 14 December 2015 7pm

Cost: $20 per person includes wine and nibbles. All proceeds from the evening will go to the girls we worked with at Hagar Vietnam.

Tickets on sale from Marina Shearer 03 3156555, Hurunui District Council offices Amberley, Hanmer Springs Library and Service Centre and at the Culverden Art Gallery in Culverden.

For more information on Hagar visit <https://hagarinternational.org/new-zealand/>